Dear Brookfield Parents, Students, Teachers, Staff and Community,

Good morning. Over the next several days Brookfield R-III educational staff, administrators and teachers will be making educational resources and materials available to all of Brookfield's families and students to be used during our extended break due to the coronavirus. These materials are intended to be for enrichment. They are intended to be used by our families to continue the education of their children while we have to take an unexpected break from our normal school routine. They are not intended to add to your stress during this time or to be seen as "homework", or, "one more thing you have to worry about". Please use them in the spirit in which they are intended; to bond with your children and to help them continue on their educational journey until we can begin a normal school routine again. The only exception to this is the high school students enrolled in dual credit classes. You must stay in contact with your teachers and your university in order to get credit for those courses. Teachers for all students will be available through email if you need help and advice. We will be happy to help you in any way we can!

Also, we are committed to providing food services during this closure to any student who needs it. These meals will consist of a sack lunch and breakfast and will be available for curbside pickup outside of the elementary cafeteria entrance from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. M-F, unless otherwise announced. There is a form on the school district website that must be filled out if you wish to participate in these meals. We need this information so we know how many meals to prepare. Meals will be provided at no charge to our PK-12 students, including our local Head Start students.

Brookfield is a wonderful community right in the middle of the heartland of the greatest nation on Earth. Let us be an example to the nation of how to deal with this crisis. Practice common sense, safety, kindness and be there for your neighbors.

God Bless.

Sincerely,

Kyle Collins, Ed.D
Superintendent, Brookfield R-III School District
