

Frequently Asked Questions:

Here are some of the common questions that administration has been receiving during the school closure. If you have other questions that are not included on this document, please communicate either with your child's teacher or with the administration. As more questions are asked, we will add them to this document.

Are the learning opportunities being shared on the website graded?

At this point, no, they are not being graded. We encourage students to continue to work on the learning opportunities so that when school is back in session, students will not experience gaps in learning aligned to the priority curricular standards. We recommend that all students take advantage of the new learning activities and tasks to prevent loss of performance and instruction compared to their grade-level peers in our district as well as across the state of Nebraska.

Do we need to be in every Zoom meeting set up by teachers?

At this point, Zoom meeting attendance is not required. We encourage students to participate in the Zoom meetings to connect with their teachers and classmates. If they have questions over the new learning tasks and activities, teachers can answer those questions and give general guidelines and information.

Will my son or daughter advance to the next grade?

At the elementary and junior high students will automatically be promoted to the next grade level. Students in grades 9 through 12 earn credit through coursework to comply with secondary education requirements for graduation. If a student in 9th-12th grade was passing a class at the end of the 3rd quarter, they will receive credit for that class. If a student was not passing a class at the end of the 3rd quarter, they will be notified by the teacher and provided with opportunities to improve the grade to a passing grade. For seniors, Mr. Uldrich will be contacting individuals to ensure that all graduation requirements are met/being met in a timely manner.

What happens if I work all day and do not have time in the evening to assist with my child(ren)'s hours of school work.

Almost all of the learning opportunities we have on the website are things that students can do independently. We understand that parents are working and have obligations; therefore, if there are questions about activities or tasks, please email the classroom teacher.

What do I do if my child(ren)'s is spending hours a day on schoolwork?

Learning can happen in a lot of different ways and we understand that. There should not be an extensive amount of time spent on distance learning activities. Teachers are doing an excellent job of limiting the amount of information and learning opportunities they are posting. If you or your child are feeling overwhelmed, please reach out to the classroom teacher to discuss your concerns.
